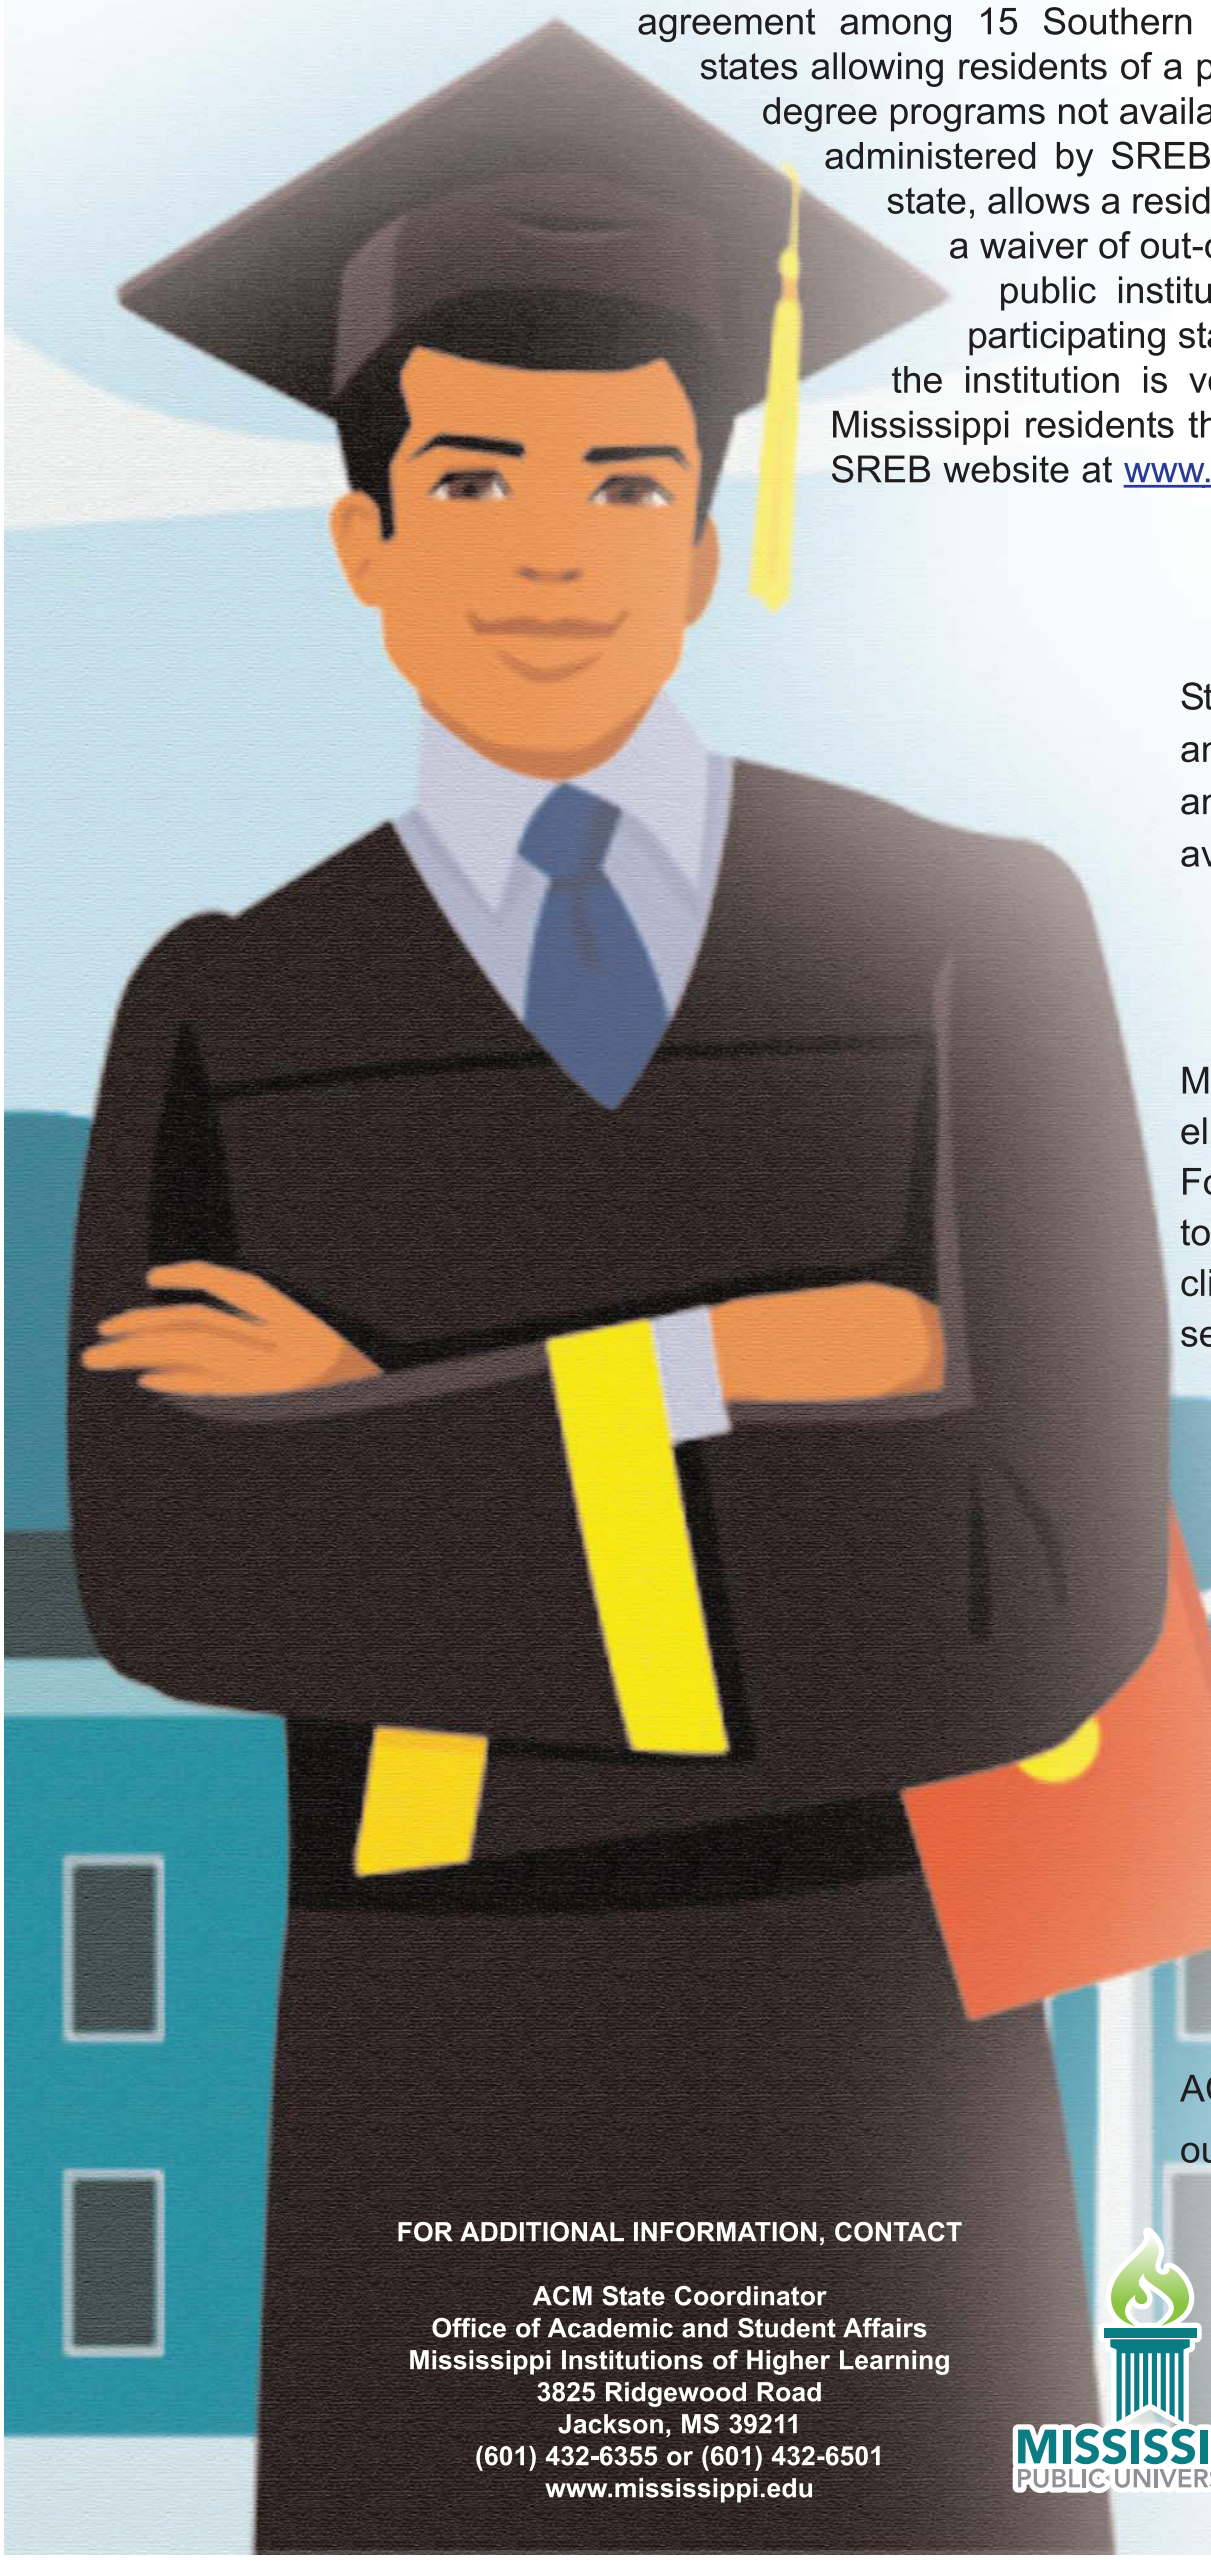
What is the Academic Common Market?



The Academic Common Market (ACM) is a cooperative, tuition-reduction agreement among 15 Southern Regional Education Board (SREB) states allowing residents of a participating state to pursue academic degree programs not available in their home state. The program, administered by SREB and coordinated by each individual state, allows a resident of a participating state to apply for a waiver of out-of-state tuition to attend a cooperating public institution of higher education in another participating state. The participation by the state and the institution is voluntary. The programs available to Mississippi residents through the ACM can be found on the SREB website at www.sreb.org.

Who qualifies?

Students must be residents of Mississippi and must be admitted unconditionally into an out-of-state degree program that is not available in Mississippi.

What programs are available?

More than 1,900 programs are available to eligible students at in-state tuition rates. For a complete list of programs available to Mississippi residents, visit www.sreb.org, click on "Academic Common Market" and search for Mississippi.
